Sworn Circulation of The Times

For purposes of comparison the sworn statement below gives, first, the circulation of TER TIMES on the 6th day of August, 1800—the day of the strike by compositors in this office—followed by the circulation figures at various periods since that date, showing the horrance.

THE MAY EXHIBIT IN DETAIL. Advertisers Who Hire Newspaper Space Have a Right to Know the Circulation!

The circulation exhibit in detail for May The circulation examined as 57.775 is as follows:

FOR THE WEEK ENDED MAY 1...... 57.775

FOR THE WEEK ENDED MAY 14...... 58.215

FOR THE WEEK ENDED MAY 21..... 59,935

FOR THE WEEK ENDED MAY 28..... 59,600

FOR THE 3 DAYS ENDED MAY 31..... 26,945 Total...... 262,470

Average per day for the 31 days, 8466 Gain since August, 1890....... 1753

The strike long since proved itself an atter failure. The boyont is a weak malicious, impotent device of a very few selfah and irresponsible individuals. The Times defies it and them and continues to employ organized labor, paying thereto mere in wages annual), than any rival establishmeat. The business men of Los Angeles are counseled to pay no attention to alien carpet-baggers, professional anarch ats and lawless enemies of their best interests.

We stand ready to exhibit to advertisers our circulation books and pressroom reports at any time, as a verification of the claims above. Our charges are fixed on the only true basis, namely, the CIRCULATION of THE TIMES, which is guaranteed to be double that of any local competitive journal.

Insurgents. .

Admiral McCanp Takes Charge of Her at Iquique.

to San Diego. Her Surrender Made Voluntarily by the Insurgent Leaders-The Esmeralda Arrives at Panama.

By Telegraph to The Times. 1QUIQUE, Chile, June 4.—[By the Associated Press.] The steamship Itata arrived here this morning from Tacopilla and has been delivered over to the American warships now here. The Charleston arrived here at noon from Arica. The Itata handed over all the arms she took from San Diego, consisting of 5000 rifles.

The commander of the Itata states that the arms were not embarked at San Diego, but at a point many miles at sea. The Iquique government claims that this circumstance modifies the situation considerably, and will probably result in a speedy solution of he difficulties between the Admirals and the junta.

The authorities at the same time de clare that the cargo of the Itata is of little importance, taking into consideration the small number of arms.

ADMIRAL M'CANN'S REPORT.

The Itata to be Convoyed to San Diezo by a Cruiser. WASHINGTON, June 4.—|By the Asso-clated Press.| The Navy Department received official information tonight of the peaceful surrender of the Chilean nsurgent steamer Itata at Iquique today. The information was contained n a dispatch from Admiral McCann. The Itata arrived from Tocopilla last night and was placed at the disposition of Admiral McCann this morning. She had on board, the dispatch says, the 5000 rifles and also the ammunition taken from the schooner Robert and Minnie off the port of San Diego, Cal. She had no other munitions of war than those belonging to the ship and had transferred nothing to the Esmeralda, with which we communicated off

Acapulco, Mexico. Admiral McCann says the cruiser Charleston arrived at Iquique today and the Pensacola is expected before night. The Itata will now be sent back to San Diego, probably under convoy of a cruiser. She will be delivered to the United States Court officials at San Diego, and proceedings against her will be resumed. Secretary Tracy gave to an Assoclated Press reporter tonight the chain of circumstances that led up to the peaceful surrender to the United States of the Itata today. The Secre tary said that the desire for her surrender came from the leaders of the insurgent party at Iquique. Shortly after the vessel illegally escaped from the custody of the Marshal at San Diego the Government was informed by these leaders that they disapproved the action of the officers of the vessel and made offers through Admiral McCann to peacefully surrender her to the-United States a soon as she arrived in Chilean waters. The offers were communicated to the department at Washington, and were duly accepted by this Government without, however, implying recogni-tion on the part of the United States of the insurgents as belligerents. As soon as the offers were accepted a telegram authorizing him to cease the Charleston, but the steamer had al ready sailed when the telegram reached Acapulco. Secretary Tracy said the Itata would be sent up to San Diego.

UNCLE SAM'S CREDIT. Secretary Foster Says It Is the Best on Earth.

NEW YORK, June 4 .- Secretary of the Treasury, Foster held a confer ence today with a number of leading bankers and brokers of this city in rebankers and brokers of this city in regard to the 4½ per cent, bonds to be redeemed by the Government September 1. The result of the discussion was the adoption of a resolution expressing the opinion that in view of the necessity for an increase of circulating notes for the movement of the abundant crops, it is to the interest of the country at large to extend the maturing of the 4½ per cent, bonds at the rate of 2 per cent, payable at the pleasure of the Government, and that a lower rate of interest would that a lower rate of interest would tend to contract the currency. In company with Murat Halstead, Secretary Foster this evening visited the Union League Club in Brooklyn.

At a subsequent reception he spoke in an informal way. He said in part: "Our Democratic friends have a good deal to say about the billion dolgood deal to say about the billion dol-lar Congress. Every move we make our Democratic friends seem to think indicates poverty in the Treasury Department. Recently I thought it wise and prudent to propose an extension of the 4½ per cents. The Treasury Department is abun-dantly able to pay these bonds when they mature. In view of the fact that $50,000,000 in gold has been exported within a short period of time, I daemed it unwise to do anything just now to tended and at the rate of 2 per cent. interest will bear a premium, a condition of credit that exists nowhere in he world besides.

AN ANGRY PRELATE.

The Itata Given up by the ARCHBISHOP IRELAND ON THE LUCERNE PLAN.

> He Declares the Whole Proceeding to Be an Insult to American Nationalism from Abroad.

By Telegraph to The Times.
St. Paul (Minn.,) June 4.—[By the The Fugitive-Will Be Brought Back Associated Press.] Since the publication of his interview of a few days ago regarding Cahensley's Lucerne me morial, Archbishop Ireland has had many telegrams and letters of indorsement of his views. To-day, in an interview with an Associated Press correspondent, he talked further on the subject.

He said: "As the details of the plot are unfolded the indignation of Americans, Catholics or Protestants, cannot but grow in intensity. The whole proceeding is an an insult to American nationalism, and reveals the fact that certain Europeans imagine America to be a sort ropeans imagine America to be a sort of African Congo, without autonomy of its own, incapable of life without the constant application of European galvanic batteries. Catholics are mortified that their religion is made the occasion and pretense of this insolent foreign intermedding. Strange news indeed for American ears to hear that the Austrian and Prussian ambassadors in Rome have been instructed by dors in Rome have been instructed by their home governments to bring to bear upon the Vatican their influence in aid or Herr Canensiey's plan of Campaigni.
The contagion spreads to an extent that compels a smile of amusement in the midst of our anger. We find M.
Mercier, Minister of the Province of Quebec, a colony of England, running to the Vatican and praying in the name of his little constituency that a Canadian bishop be named for the see of Ogdensburg in the State of New

We can easily picture the further extension of this foreign ambition to rule Catholic affairs in America, and in a few years an ecclesiastical map of the country would show the fingerings of every foreign principality ity of Tanbycroft in September last whose emigrants choose to touch our shores. This attack of foreignism upon the church in America, however, Sir Edward Clarke, in reply, admitted

"I have seen the official denial of the representative of the Deutsch Amerikanischer Priester Verein, or German Cierical Society of America, discialming all knowledge of the Cahensely memorial. What he will not deny is that the Cahensley memorial is nearly word for word the document which the German priests of St. Louis, founders of the verein, sent to Rome in 1886; nor will he deny that a few days ago Amerika, a paper which is fed on verein food, declared openly that it will ceaselessly work for Cahensley's programme. Whoever is the author of the letter, the spirit of the Cahensley movement thrives in the halls of the verein, and the verein is an exotic to which American air is most uncongenial."

The Northwestern's Earnings.

Chicago, June 4.—At the annual CHICAGO, June 4.-At the annual meeting of stockholders of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Company today, the report for the year ending May 31 (the figures for May being estiearnings, $3,676,000; amount paid in dividends, $3,446,000; leaving a surplus of $230,000, which, added to the surplus of lines west of the Missouri River, makes a total of $250,000. A semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent on the common stock and a quarterly divi-dend of 1½ per cent on the preferred stock was declared.

At the meeting this afternoon James

To Find a New Ladybug. SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Secretary Lelong of the State Board of Horticulture announces that Albert Koebele, discoverer of the vedolia cardinalis, or Australian ladybug, will again sail in a few days for Australia, New Zealand and adjacent countries to search for parasitic or other bene-ficial insects for introduction into this State. Mr. Koebele's fare will be paid abroad at least two years. Gen. Alger Coming West. CHICAGO, June 4.—Gen. Russell A Alger left Chicago last night for the West. He will visit the Pacific Coast, spending most of his time in Washing ton. The trip, he says, is one princi pally for health and has nothing to do with the scheme by which, as rumor has it, he is in connection with Hunt and Clarkson to establish a gigantic line of steamers from Washington sea ports to China.

Green.' The cross-examination of Lieut. Levett by Clark did not result in developing any important points and utterly failed to shake the Lieutenant's testimony. There was a decided sensation in court when, during Levett's cross-examination, Clarke asked questions in regard to liquid refreshments which were partaken of during the baccarat playing at Tanbycroft, and apparently reached such dangerous ground that the Lord Chief Justice felt compelled to interrupt the cross-examiner by inquiring rather severely whether he desired to convey to the jury the impre-sion that the hospital-ity of Tanbycroft in September last was in the nature of "disturbing hos-

Some time later he sent a note to Mrs. Wilson saying: "I have distinctly seen Sir William Gordon Cumming cheating twice. I cannot remain in the room any longer. Something ought to be done to stop the game." Subsequently Green asked to be confronted with Sir William Gordon Cumming and the latter denied his guilt.

Green was cross-examined by Gill, who managed to considerably liven up the proceedings. Gill began by asking witness a number of questions as to his duties on the days of the races, and witness replied in substance that they consisted in entertaining the race party. Gill thereupon remarked that "Luncheon was going on all the afternoon, perhaps." To this witness angrily replied: "Do you hint that I was drunk?"

Why Sir William Toyed With the Baccarat Chips. BALTIMORE, June 4.—[By the Associated Press.] "Alestar Penrose Gordon Cumming has lived for the past twelve years in Carroll county, about twenty miles from Baltimore. He has received several letters from Sir William in which the Lieutenant-Colonel of the Scots Guards declared his innocence of the alleged baccarat cheating and says he (Sir William) will fight the matter to the bitter end. Mr. Gordon matter to the bitter end. Mr. Gordon Cumming, referring to his brother's alleged mode of play, says Sir William has since early youth been afflicted with a slight touch of St. Vitus dance, inheriting it from his mother, which caused Sir William to exhibit nervousness of the hands. When playing at cards Sir William would invariably toy with the chips. He thinks those who accuse his brother of cheating thus deceived themselves.

He speaks of the Wilsons as extremely common people and of Berkeley Levett as a "cad." Concerning the signing of the famous contract by Sir William, his brother says it was done solely that there would be no expose of the Prince of Wales's exorbitant gambling.

London, June 4.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The baccarat trial was resumed this morning.

Berkeley Levett, one of the defendants in the case, took the stand. Lieut. Levett was pale and very nervous. The Lieutenant's testimony in substance confirmed that of young Mr. Wilson in regard to what took place at Tanbycroft on Beptember 8, 9 and 10. The Lieutenant told of his visit to the room of Cumming, and of the latter's request whether he (Levett) "could not say he was mistaken in what he saw." To this the Lieutenant replied: "I would say I was mistaken in the case." To this the Lieutenant replied: "I would say I was mistaken in the case." lilinois Legislators Wrangle Over World's Fair Appropriation. Springfield (Ill.,) June 4.—[By the Associated Press.] An extraordinary scene of wild confusion and excitement was witnessed in the lower house of the General Assembly yesterday when the World's Fair bill, which, as passed by the Senate, appropriated $1,000,000 for the Illinois exhibit, was acted on. Efforts to reduce the appropriation to $500,000 or $600,000 were successively defeated, but on a motion putting the amount at $750,000, it was apparent the vote would be a tie. Then Speaker Crafts (Dem.,) voted for the amendment, and ignoring a Republican member who wished to change his vote, hurriedly announced the vote

Then the house became a bedlam of shricking, blaspheming and hurrahing men. Crafts coolly declared the $750,-000 amendment defeated in the face of a terrific storm of protests. The Speaker would only listen to a motion to adjourn, and calmly declared it car-ried. The members were now yelling and running about like wild men. Half a dozen made a rush for the Speaker, to drag dim from the chair, but were (orcibly held back by friends. The World's Fair bill was discussed again at length in the lower house of the General Assembly today, but with-out wild excitement characterizing yesterday's debate. No result was reached.

A Schooner Part y Wrecked. SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.- News was received today of the partial wreck of the schooner Mayflower. She was bound from Klamath River to San Francisco. As she was crossing out she struck on a rock, punching a hole in her bottom. The deckload was carried overboard. The deckload was car-ried overboard. The hatches were burst open by the force of the waves, and despite the efforts of the captain and crew the vessel became water-logged. While in this condition the tug Requa happened along and getting a line on board started with the schooner to Crescent City. The May-flower left here on May 7 to load lumber and return. Heavy Fallure. NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 4 .- The Connell, Hall, McLoster & Co., of this city, assigned this morning. Liabilities, $473,000; assets estimated at $725,.

During the past year the firm has done a business amounting to more than a million dollars. The failure was caused by attempting to do more business than their capital allowed. The officers of the company are confident that all obligations will be met Street Affray at Salinas.

SALINAS, June 4.—A shooting scrape occurred on Main street here this afternoon. The principals were Eugene Kidd and Lou Davis, wellknown parties here. The affray grew out of an old score. Two shots were fired, neither of which took effect owing to the close quarters. They clinched and Davis was badly cut on the head with blows from the revolver.

A Swindling Bank Sr. Louis, June 4.—A Guthrie (Ok-lahoma,) dispatch says: "The receiver of the Commercial Bank, which failed some months ago, has handed in his report to the court. It shows the bank frem its inception was run with a view to take in all it could in deposits and then fail. The defunct bank started in without a dollar, and there is no record of the organizers of the institution or that anybody else ever put in a dollar except the depositors. Blooded Horses Burned to Death. CINCINNATI, June 4.-Lightning struck the barn on the Bugher farm at Woodlawn, this county, this morning and set it on fire. It was consumed with eight blooded horses. Among them was the $20,000 stallion Tom Rogers, belonging to Mrs. Kate Bugher, widow of the late Horace Bugher. The total loss is estimated a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, her damages being assessed at $4000.

The facts in the case as presented by the testimony for the plaintiff are briefly as follows: On October 25, 1887, John Schramm, the plaintiff shusband, drove up to the City Gardens on San Pedro street, near Eighth, and leaving his wagon and team standing in front of the saloon, went inside. While he was drinking at the bar, he heard a train approaching from Santa Monica, and at once ran out, got upon the wagon and attempted to drive across the track to a place of safety. In doing so, however, the hind wheels of the vehicle caught in the rails and the horses balked. The train, which was running at the rate of about fitteen miles an hour, was at Tenth street, over one thousand feet distant, when Schramm started to cross the track; but, although it was high hoon at the time, and a clear day, the engineer did not attempt to slacken the speed of his train or do anything to prevent an accident except to ring his bell and blow his whist. The consehing to prevent an accident except to ring his bell and blow his whistle. The conse-quence was that the locomotive struck the lind part of Schramm's wagon, smashing it osplinters and almost instantly killing Schramm.

to spinters and almost instantly killing Schramm.

The railroad company alleged that the accident was entirely due to the negligence of Schramm in attempting to cross the track when the train was approaching, and endeavored to show that everything that could possibly be done to prevent the accident had been done by its employés.

This is the second trial of the case, it having been tried about two years ago, when a verdict was returned for the defendant, and the plaintiff then moved for a new trial, but verdict was returned for the defendant, and the plaintiff then moved for a new trial, but the motion was denied. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, before which it was argued at the last October term and the case was remanded for a new trial.

NOT CRAZY ENOUGH TO BE CONFINED. Mrs. Josephine Pellegtini, a native of Mrs. Josephine Peliegrini, a native of France, 39 years of age, appeared before Judge Smith and two commissioners appointed by the Court, for examination as to her sanity, yesterday afternoon in Department One. The unfortunate woman and her husband, George Pellegrini, at one time conducted a restaurant on Main street between First and Second streets, but were obliged to give it up on account of financial reverses, and of late have been in the candy business on South Spring street. Ill-health and the worry induced by their misfortune affected Mrs. Pellegrini's mind to such an extent that for several days past it has been evident to her friends that she was insane, and fearing that she would do herself some injury her husband sought to have her committed to an asylum. One of her illusions is that his satanic majesty appears to her in person, and on one occasion she remained in an attitude of prayer, with a crucifix firmly pressed to her bosom, from 9 o'clock at night until daylight, in a vain an effort to seare her tormentor away. In the Township Court, yesterday after-In the Township Caut, yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Eliza Fischer, a German lady of uncertain age, appeared before Jistice Stanton for trial upon the charge of battery preferred against her by a young Frence girl named Jeannette Couzat. The complainant and a schoolmate named Jennie Sarrai alleged that on May 25, last, as they were returning from school to their homes near the University, they crossed a vacant lot adjoining Mrs. Fischer's residence, on the corner of Jefferson street and Western avenue. Without any apparent reason or provocation therefor, Mrs. Fischer rushed at them and grabbing each of the girts by the bosom of her dress, shook them, at the same time talking to them in German, a language neither understood. Jennie Couzat etruck her on the head with a lunch basket, whereupon the defendant released Jennie Sarrai and pounded her companion on the back and shoulders with a rock until the child was terribly bruised.

After hearing part of the testimony the Contro continued the case until this morning at 9 o'clock for further hearing.

In Department Three, yesterday morning, the case of the Schallert-Ganahl Lumber and Milling Company against J. W. Kiggs, a suit to recover the sum of $1100, alleged to be due on a promissory note, came up for hearing before Judge Wade, who, at the close of the testimony, ordered judgment for plaintiff in the amount prayed for.

In Department Five, yesterday morning, the appeal case of J. Neuner analist C. W. Palm & Co., came up for hearing before Judge McKinley, but by consent the judgment of the lower court was affirmed without going through the formula of a hearing.

In Department Six yesterday morning the case of Bing High against G. B. Woodberry and H. B. Fox, a suit to recover damages in the sum of $5000 for an alleged illegal arrest and imprisonment in May, 1890, came up for hearing before Judge Shaw, but the plaintiff having failed to pay the costs of the continuance in accordance with the order of the Court on Wednesday, last, the defendants' motion for a dismissal of the action without prejudice was granted, and judgment was thereupon ordered for defendants for their costs.

THE CHURCHILL LUNCHEON. Mrs. O. H. Churchill gave a lunch party yesterday afternoon at her handsome Figneroa street home. The affair was given in honor of her cousins from the East, Mrs. Rogers and Miss Sallie Pickrell, who are the guests of Mrs. Churchill. Miss Pick-rell is an accomplished planist, having recently returned from Germany where she has received a thorough musical training. She contributed to the enjoyment of the guests by playing several selections. Miss Moille Adelia Brown also sang a dainty ballad.

VIGOROUS AND PLAIN TALK

Against His Indorsement Because He Believes It Would Be a Disgrace to the Great State of California

The opposition to Maxwell for the posi-tion of chief of the norticultural bureau of the World's Fair is becoming more pro-nounced every day. As a matter of fact, when his name was first mentioned it was looked upon as a joke and no particular at-tention was paid to the matter, and when his appointment was announced it was some time before the people could really comprehend what it meant or how it came about. On recovering from the shock, however, efforts were at once commenced to undo the injury. The friends of Hon. J. de Barth Shorb are still vigorously pushing his cause, and seem to be confident of success, notwithstanding the reports that "Maxwell has it all fixed," which are being circulated.

The following, from the San Francisco Examiner of Wednesday, gives an idea of the feeling in the northern part of the State:

Examiner of Wednesday, gives an idea of the feeling in the northern part of the State:

TALK WITH A. T. HATCH.

A. T. Hatch of Suisun City, who is one of the largest fruit-growers in the State, an ex-president of the State Board of Trade and a member of the California World's Fair Commission, has written a vigorous letter to the Chicago board of directors protesting against the indorsement of Walter Maxwell. Mr. Hatch was in the city last night and desired to make some explanation, since he had actively opposed the appointee, in spite of the statement repeatedly made that no Californian can become the head of the horticultural department if Mr. Maxwell is refused.

Commissioner Hatch said: "I am against the indorsement of Walter Maxwell, because I believe he would be a disgrace to the great State of California. I am aware that California cannot get the honor if Maxwell is not accepted, but I had a thousand times rather see a decent man from any other State in the place than see him. I do not oppose him because he is not a horticulturist. In my opinion a man does not have to be a horticulturist. In my opinion a man does not have to be a horticulturist. To be efficient in the place, and any decent man of good executive ability can make a success as head of the department of horticulture."

"Have you personal reasons for opposing Mr. Maxwell?"

"Any man who knows me knows that I would not oppose California's candidate for personal reasons. I never saw Maxwell, and did not know him until his name was presented. Then I learned there was not a respectable man in his own town whould say a good word for him. How he came to get the appointment you can set from this letter, which I received this morning from Washington Porter, whom almost everybody in California's the pretinent portion:

The comparatively light travel for the

The comparatively light travel for the past few weeks has been due to the continued fog and cold of the valleys. However, as a matter of fact, the mountain has been clear and besutiful for the most part. The year has opened with a strong increase of travel, and the season will be far the best in the history of the camps.

The beauty and grandeur of this place must be seen to be appreciated. The magnificent views from many points afford inplication for the pen of any man. The brush of no one could give any true conception of the subtle beauty, the serene dignity and grace these lookouts afford. There is a spirit in these mountain retreats that brings one to the very heart of nature. No one can feel it without becoming better. Wreatued in the incomparable smille of sunstains with an atmosphere of crystal and oreathed over all the exquisite breath of spring; here the lounging places beneath the great pines, the fountains of cold, sparkling water, pure, grateful and refreshing as the morning sun ight, the wild flowers, and the absolute quiet and rest bring one to a realization of what primitive blessings were "one man learned to hew the shaft, lay the architrave and spread the roof above them."

Hundreds of people will visit the mountains during the season just opened. Many with their hearts in sympathy with the scenes, others cold and indifferent to all, and again others who permit the little insonveniences of mountain climbing to destroy the harmony of everything about them. Some are not constituted to see this world, they belong to some other system; as Artemus Ward said of the tomb of Shakespeare, this world "is a success." Let us not look at it "as through a gass dimly," to be a little admonitory.

Every available nook and corner was filled with weary tourists on the evening of May 30. Flity-two were ensconed at Strain's camp, and the hills rang with the laughter and shouts of the delighted quests.

When he came to Los Angeles he brought with him about sixty thousand dollars. Most of this money has been spent, and Mrs. Miller says that where it has gone is a messtery to her. Of course, some of it was invested, and the balance probably went in speculation. Miller owns a piece of property in Kansas City worth about fifty thousand dollars, which brings in an income of $350 per month. Then he owns a number of lots and some acreage property in this city besides the saloon. There is a mortgage of $10,000 on the Kansas City property, and $2500 on a Main-street lot here. When he put in his claim there was a kick on the part of the management, and payment was deferred. This did not suit Cobb so he attached the box office receipts and got his money.

Several other matters that did not please the individual exhibitors grew out of this and they imagined that money was being squandered. They demanded an investigation of the books and a committee was appointed. A man named Dexter war book-keeper, and a committee was struck and it showed a shortage of about $1400. This investigation took place before the fair closed, but the managers claim that the matter was strightened up finally.

Of course when the unfortunate are not violent, they are put in a cell, like any other prisoner, but when they are dangerous and develop suicid I tendencies, the problem is a difficult one. For instance, Mrs. Pellegrini was taken to the police station yesterday morning about 4 o'clock. The unfortunate woman was very violent, and the officers were afraid to put her in a cell, for fear she would injure herself. The County Jall officials would not receive her, and the city authorities were convepiled to horrow course when the unfortunate are not violent, city authorities were compelled to borrov "mufflers" to keep the woman from doing mountain resort.

Maxwell to the headship of the bureau of horticulture. The opposition to Maxwell appears to be growing, or, rather, it would be more coret to say that he never had any considerable support.

A SIDE LIGHT ON WORLD'S FAIR

The Illinois Legislature yesterday distinguished itself by getting up a free fight over the World's Fair appropriation, which a number of the mem-bers desired to reduce from $1,000,000 to about half that sum. This is not a very graceful action on the part of the benefit from the big show.

In this connection we may mention that, under the head of "The Permanent Improvement of Chicago," the Sacramento Record-Union publishes an editorial which casts an invidious side light on Chica go's attitude toward the exposition. Commenting on the surprise expressed by some journals that the World's Fair authorities should spend from $7000 to $8000 in dvertising the show in one New York paper, the Record-Union claims that the $10,000,000 added by Chicago to the $2,000,000 given by the Government of the United States is just as much a part of the public fund as the money appropriated from the public treasury. The national commis-sion, upon which California is represented, has decided that not one dollar of this fund shall be used in promotion of the exposition itself, but that all shall be deliberately and purposely devoted to the permanent improvement of the city of Chicago. That city offered, and the offer was accepted, a swamp lying on its southerly limits known as Jackson Park. This place was examined by Frederick Law Olmstead, the most celebrated landscape gardener in the United States, who reported that it was totally unfit for the purpose to which it was proposed to devote it. It could be made fit, however, by costly filling, and this proceeding has evidently been resolved upon The sum of the matter is, says the Record-Union, that the $10,000,000 which the Government required to be raised by the locality receiving the favor of having the fair held within its borders is to be devoted exclusively to the permanent improvement of this park and the construction of buildings which will constitute a permanent addition to the value of real estate of the city of Chicago, and to its attractions as a city. The exhibitors throughout the world are expected to make the exhibition and thereby attract the gatemoney. The public appropriations are to be used exclusively in the Los Angeles public library will be free construction of buildings in which to to all residents of Los Angeles over 12 hold the exhibition. If Chicago is reyears of age. This will place our imbursed out of the gate money and the sale of privileges-which she certainly will be-and if a surplus is created it all inures to the benefit of Chicago. That city will make fifty millions out of the World's Fair, Her hotels, theaters, saloons, stores and street railways will get the lion's share of this money, but at last she will have acquired $12,000,000 worth of permanent improvements at the expense of the public. In this situation she stands disclosed merely as a showman and nence can afford to advertise.

The Sacramento journal adds: So far as California is concerned, her nost patriotic and enterprising citizens are entertained the hope that she would eable to present to the world her many tractions, producing a conviction attractions, producing a conviction of the existence of undeveloped resources here awaiting the awakening influences of energy and enterprise. Up to the present time every effort in this difection has been foiled by the action of the national commission. That body seems to have desired nothing beyond conducting a great show at Chicago for the benefit of that city.

It is to be hoped that future develpments may show up the World's Fair authorities in a more favorable light, and that the people of the Inited States may have no cause permanantly to regret that the lot fell to Chicago, in favor of which city the Pacific Coast cast its influence.

The inauguration of a strong con pany to build and operate an electric railway to the summit of Wilson's Peak will be hailed with delight by residents of Los Angeles. Many who would greatly like to visit this attractive resort above the clouds have been deterred by the fatigue entailed by the ide up the trail on the hurricane deck of a patient and deliberate burro. When the railway is completed it will be quite feasible to run up from Los Angeles and back in a day, with no more exertion than is required for a trip to Santa Monica We shall then be able to go up about Christmas and occasionally enjoy a game of snow-balling. The necessary adjunct of a first-class tourist hotel on on the summit will, of course, follow, and many will stay there for days or weeks, enjoying the pure atmosphere the odor of the pines, and the widespreading view over mountain, valley and plain, extending to the ocean and Switzerland, which has been called the playground of Europe, has a dozen or more of these mountain railroads and is constantly building fresh ones. It has even been decided to scale the virof which will be through tunnels in the solid rock. On some of these mountains, at elevations of from 5000 to 10,000 feet, are mammoth hotels, containing every luxury, and they are always crowded during the season. In America there is a railway up Washington and another up Pike's Peak. One great advantage which the Wilson's Peak road will have been frequently found as a by-product over all mountain roads yet constructed in the mining of mica, especially in Virginia and North Carolina. Some all the year round. Some of the Swiss is that it can, if necessary, be operated all the year round. Some of the Swiss mountain top resorts can only be kept open four months in the year, and six months is a long season. In addition to other attractions, there will soon be located upon Wilson's Peak the most powerful telescope in the world, the lens for which is now being finished in Massachusetts. There is no doubt that the Mt. Wilson Railway will be a success from the begin-ning and will do much to attract tour-

WILLIAM WESTEFELD, the wellknown baker and restauranteur of San Francisco, has grown tired of the boycott which has been waged against him for some time past, and has commenced an action in the Superior Court to restrain certain members of the Executive Committees of several unions from continuing the an-noyance. He also demands damages in the sum of $10,000. Superior Judge Sanderson has granted a temporary injunction. A general disposition is noticeable throughout the country to cease submitting to the outrageous and illegal persecution of boycotters of Illinois people, who will reap so much which the American public is heartily weary.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND OPERAHOUSE.-The Waifs of ew York, a typical Bowery melodrama is drawing excellent houses, the balcony and gallery especially being filled to over-flowing each night. Kate Emmett is probaflowing each night. Kate Emmett is probably the best impersonator of the sharp, cunning, slangy, good hearted, street Arab on the stage today. Her voice is a boy's voice and there is nothing apparent in her
crowd of chubby little street boys who like fun at other people's expense and take no thought of where tomorrow's dinner is to come from. The audience enters heartily into the enjoyment of the conventional situations, faughs at the brittiant repartees, and is intensely interested in the duel with knives, the house on fire, and other exciting incidents of the play.

George W. Thompson gives an excellent
German character sketch. George W. Mitchell makes a sufficiently blood-thirsty Italian, and Amy Ames, as the good-hearted Irish applewomen, is a whole show in herself, and gets the lion's share of the applause. The piece is really cleverly put together, for a work of the kind, and fulfils its mission of affording sufficient amusement to the public to draw the dollars into the treasury.

The programme opened with Dudley Buck's "Voyage of Columbus," a work written in the prime of his life, and standing among those best known and most representative of him. The choral work throughout was thorough and was given with firmness of attack, with spontaneous and natural phrasing and good feeling.

The solo work was not so wholly pleasing. "The Priest" (Mr. F. A. Walton) sang with great fire and showde a triving and week. great fire and showed a striking and excel-lent quality of voice. "Columbus" (Dr. Fernandez) was embarrassed by a defective pronunciation of the English text and was remance; was embarrassed by a defective pronunciation of the English text and was monotonous in delivery in spite of special notes of great roundness and sweetness. Mr. Osgood sang the beautiful "Love Song" with sympathetic touch and knowledge of its requirements.

The following numbers were light, and lightly done, till the seventh number was reached, the "Charms of Priests," from The Magic Flute. The relief and solid satisfaction given by a composition that was a something much more than pretty, or graceful, or delicate, was so marked and happy that it is surely proof enough, that the chorus can and will do better and heavier work. Perfection in detail and delicacy in phrasing is much, and this the club possesses in great measure. It also has good unison and volume, but for some time now it has held back from really serious work and contented itself with many trifies, light as air and sweet as spring, perhaps, but not satisfying to the hunger for real music. "the it has held back from really serious work and contented itself with many trifles, light as air and sweet as spring, perhaps, but not satisfying to the hunger for real inusic—the kind that lasts and stays and will not be forgotten. Only by such work and such steady aim can any club be more than a plaything for society and a club for pleasure only. That the club, and the club's leader, C. S. Waiton, are capable of greater things, no one doubts; let them take the steps forward that they can and should make before their next concert, which will be in the early fall.

J. Bond Francisco, the soloist, chose for his violin two numbers widely different, and played them both well. The first a Concert Polonaise by Ruekenmeister, showed forth most plainly Mr. Francisco's fine technique, and though there were some shrillness and roughness they were due to the occasion, not to the player. SOUTHERN TIMBER LANDS.

Within a Few Years the Lumber Sur ply Must Come from the South.

Mr. A. P. Hull contributes an article on "The Forest Wealth of the South" to the current number of Dixie, which contains some valuable information: once supplied the markets of the country with white pine, has been so denuded of its forests that it has ceased nuded of its forests that it has ceased to be a factor of any great importance in the lumber world. The most important forest area in the Northwest, encept on the Pacific slope, is now the white pine region of the great lakes, and it is being rapidly swept of its forests. In 1860 the lumber product of that region, comprising the States of Michgan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, was 1,600,000,000 feet. In 1889 the output had risen to 8,300,000,000 feet. The value of white pine lands advanced in value of white pine lands advanced in the same period from less than $2 an acre to prices ranging from $30 to $75 an acre. The total amount of timber now standing in the region is estimated at less than 120,000,000,000 feet, and, at the present rate of cutting, the supply will be exhausted in less than fifteen

The South now holds within its bor The South now holds within its borders the reserve supply of the country's timber. According to recent carefully prepared statistics, the yellow pine still standing in the South is estimated at from 215,000,000,000 to 230,000,000,000,000 feet, while hardwood and other lumber is estimated at from 570,000,000,000 to 580,000,000,000, making a grand total of about 800,000,000,000 feet, worth, at $10 per thousand, $8,000,000,000. The rapid exhaustion of the white pine forests in the North and Northwest has, however, begun to tell on the southern forests. The total value of the products of southern lumber industries for the southern lumber industries for the census year 1880 was $46,977,000. In 1890 the value of the same products had risen to $102,120,000. As the supnad risen to $102,120,000. As the sup-ply in other parts of the country is diminished, the demand on the South-ern States will increase, and these States will be well-nigh denuded of their merchantable timber when two or three more decades shall have passed. "IMPORTANT IF TRUE."

There is a rumor current that Corp. C. W. Palm, editor of the Daily (Court) Journal, is about to withdraw from that paper and accept a similar position in Garvanza. It was impos sible yesterday to verify the rumor, as Corp. Palm had left the city, "for a month's vacation," as was stated by grapevine in East Los Angeles.

From a gentleman who claimed to be informed, the following statement was obtained:

"It is known that the Journal has been in severe financial straits ever since its "fall down" on the county tax list, when it went to heavy expense in the purchase of new material for the work, having expended something like one hundred and thirteen dollars for type. As the purchase was made on type. As the purchase was made on credit, and the paper failed to secure the contract, it is supposed that the creditors became uneasy. One of the proprietors withdrew some time ago, as the income was not sufficient as the income was not sufficient to keep all the partners going, and the presumption is that Corp. Palm has tired of genteel starvation and will de-vote his energies to enlightening the thriving suburb to which he has re-tired. To add to the complication, there is great dissatisfaction among the 115 subscribers of the Journal bethe 115 subscribers of the Journal because of its attitude on matters of pub lic policy, and it is thought that a 'syndicate of control' of fifteen or twenty lawyers will be formed to look after it.

The matter was the subject of much unfavorable comment in the city yes-terday, and the course of Corp. Palm and his fluancially involved "gernal" was generally condemned, especially by the legal fraternity.

STILL ANOTHER Another wild and woolly rumor which was rampant on our streets yesterday, was traced up by a TIMES reporter. This rumor was to the effect that H. Z. Osborne, editor of the Express, is about to withdraw from that paper and accept a similar posi-tion in San Pedro. It was impossible, yesterday, to verify the rumor. as Mr. Osborne had left the city for Wilming-Osborne had left the chylor within a local machine shop for a plant," as was stated by the chambermaid in a liverystable near his office. From a gentle man who claimed to know more about it than Mr. Osborn does himself, the following statement was obtained:

"President Rockefeller of the Standard Oil Company has purchased a con-trolling interest in the Express news-paper, and Frank Pixley is here (in disguise,) to represent the Rockefeller interest. It is understood that Osborne is going out, and it is barely possible that Pixley may succeed him as editor. The financial embarrassments into which the paper has been plunged, consequent upon the setting of big display headlines over stale and insignificant news have been a source of great cant news, have been a source of great dissatisfaction to the stockholders, some of whem have from time to time some of whem have from time to time threatened to put a head on the management. The constant adulation of all party adherents, irrespective of merit, especially if they had incurred the approval of Mr. Osborne, had served to excite nauses. So noticeable had this become, that it was urged by some this become, that it was urged by some to start a new afternoon paper, which would give the news and not be afraid to express an opinion. This was opposed on the ground that the Express itself was not making expenses, but should Osborne retire, the goose will hang high and a general love-feast will prevail.

"Furthermore, the course of Mr. Osborne in persistently chasing after five separate Federal appointments and leaving his newspaper to shift for itself is generally condemned by Republicans. It is believed that, if he can steer a clear course between the Stingaree-guich whisky interests of San Pedro and the Prohibition-Chautauqua sentiment of Long Beach, Mr. Osborne may succeed in corraling a large portion of the floating patronage of San Pedro of harbor in his new journalistic venture. nalistic ven ture.

"Should the report that Rockefeller has purchased a controlling interest in the Express prove true, the queetion will naturally arise as to what he wants of it, as the paper is not ornaocompaniment, the plane was unsecutable of this Mr. Francisco was appreciated and warming applauded, and his audinated and warming applauded, and his audinated wants of it, as the paper is not ornamentally be eager to hear him again under mental, and nobody pretends that even his $100,000,000 could place the sheet has $100,000,0 lieved that an attempt will be made to absorb them and adulterate the native product with caster and eucalyptus oils, which can be raised here without irrigation."

A Times reporter called at the Express office and told the business manager that there was a report along the Arroyo Seco that there had been a meeting in the Express office yesterday morning of stockholders in the Express plant and that the transfer of papers would be made today, as a result of their decision to change the management. How Newfoundland's Claims Figured in the Matter.

Tupper Tells of His Lengthy Interviews with Blaine.

Some Progress Made Toward Agraement-How a Proposed Meeting Came to Be Postponed.

OTTAWA (Ont.,) June 4.—|By the Associated Press.] The first installment of a paper dealing with the Washington reciprocity negotiations has been laid before the Dominion Parliament. When Newfoundland negotiated the treaty, Sir Julian Pauncefote cabled the colonial office that Canadian opinion should be united. Simultaneously, Sir John Macdonald communicated with Sir Charles Tupper, urging him to enter objection on the ground that it would be injurious to Canada and violate the imperial policy of considering the Atlantic fisheries as a whole. The letters which indicate the attitude of Mr. Blaine toward Canada's proposal are missing. For the publication of these permission has not yet been obtained. One interesting communication is dated January 23. It is from Lord Knutsford, Colonial Secretary. He

The reply to this is not given. The most important communications are the reports by Sir Charles Tupper of interviews with Mr. Blaine. Tupper gives the details of the first talk with Mr. Blaine in company with Pauncefote

I told Mr. Blaine I wished at the outset to ognize the accuracy of the statementained in his letter to Pauncefote, which contained in his letter to Pauncefote, which I had seen, in reference to the invitation to open negotiations regarding reciprocal-treaty arrangements between the two countries, in that I believed it arose from negotiations which had recently taken place between the United States and Newfoundland and the desire expressed by Canada to be included in any arrangements such as had been understood to have been contemplated by the United States and Newfoundland, and that upon that being communicated to him by Sir Julian Pauncefote he had expressed his willingness to open negotiations for reciprocal-treaty arrangements between Canada and the United States, assisted by delegates from the Dominion government; the negotiations to be informal and to a certain extent of a confidential insture until they could assume a more formal character if any result were lential nature until they could assume a nore formal character if any result were more formal character if any result were arrived at.

Mr. Blaine said he understood that Canada had taken exceptions to the proposed arrangement with the United States by Newfoundland. I admitted that such was the case, and explained that the interests of Canada and Newfoundland had always been regarded as inseparable. I told Mr. Blaine I wished to remove the idea, if he retained it, which had oeen promutgated in Canada and the United States, that the present government of the Dominion was not warmly in favor of most friendly relations with the United States. In an article which I recently sent over my own signature to the North American Review. I had undertaken to give conclusive evidence upon the tooling. conclusive evidence upon the point, and I need further only to refer him to the fact that when Sir John Macdonald, who was one of Her Majesty's high commissioners, submitted to Parliament for approval the Alabama treaty, which settled all the the Alabama treaty, which settled all the then leading questions between Canada and the United States, he was fiercely denounced by the leaders and the press of the Liberal party for having basely sacrificed the interests of Canada in endeavors to promote friendly relations between Canada and the United States. I added that I had experienced the same treatment from the same party when I submitted for the approval of Parliament the treaty of Washington of 1888, Of course in 1866, and subsequently in 1885, when the treaties which gave United States fishermen a common right with ours, were abrogated in consequence of the action of the United States, we were thrown back upon the treaty of 1818; but the statements upon the treaty of 1818; but the statements that Canada then resorted to a sharp construction of that treaty, with the object of promoting freer trade relations with the United States, were erroneous. We were compelled, in justice to the rights of our compelled, in justice to the rights of our own fishermen, who were uset with high duties in the United States market, to protect them. Mr. Blaine desired to assure me that outside of individual differences of opinion there was no interest taken by the members of the Congress of the United States in the recent Canadian election, and they had taken no active part to influence the result of the election.

Continuing, I said that Canada was most anxious to have the freest and most friendly relations with the United States consistent with the interests of both countries. Mr. Blaine said he was free to admit that the treaty of 1854 was not abrogated on comwith the Interests of both countries. Mr. Biaine said he was free to admit that the treaty of 1854 was not abrogated on commercial grounds, but in consequence of a feeling that Canada sympathized with the Southern States in their conflict.

1 replied that it was difficult to see upon what basis that opinion could be entertained; that it was admitted that no less than 4000 Canadians fought in the northern army to maintain the Union, while I did not suppose that there were forty on the other side.

Mr. Biaine supposed the very large bounty had a good deal of influence in the matter. I then said the unhappy conflict had taken place previous to the confederation, but I could say with some accuracy of the province of Nova Scotia, with which I was then connected, that the Legislaturs of Nova Scotia had passed a resolution deploring the war, and one of the sharpest of international questions arose, as he would remember in connection with the Chesapeake incident in the harbor of Hailfax. Sir John Macdonaid and party had the strongest desire to promote reciprocal the strongest desire to promote reciproc trade between the two countries, and the hopes in that direction were great strengthened by the decided measures which Mr. Biaine had taken to promote reciprocal trade with other countries, and I could not see why he could not with great advantage to the United States as well as to Canada extend to the North the same policy he pursued with countries south, whose trade was very much smaller than that between the Dominion and the United States. I said the fact that he had expressed his readiness to receive the representations that Canada wished to make, would show that he was further strengthened in my views, I added, by the disposition he had shown to make reciprocal arrangements with the colony of Newfoundiand.

reciprocal arrangements with the colony of Newfoundiand.

Some question then arose between SirJulian and Mr. Biaine as to the Bond negotiations. Sir Julian explained that Bond had no authority to negotiate in any other way than through him. Biaine said that it did not appear necessary to negotiate a treaty with Newfoundiand as: that colony had expressed readiness to give the United States the privileges they enjoyed by their own action, and they proposed not only to give bait to United States fishermen, but to refuse to give the same privilege to Canada. I told Mr. Biaine the bait act in Newfoundiand had received the assent of Her Majesty upon a distinct pledge that Canadian vessels would not be affected by it. Her Majosty had power to disallow any bill that might be passed upon the subject by the colony.

Mr. Blaine at the meeting then expressed great regret at their failure to receive the message. He said the President was extremely anxious to be in Washington during the negotiations, and requested that they be deferred until a later date as he had made arrangements, which could not be changed, for an immediate visit to the West, and Mr. Blaine also mentioned that the President said as there would be no meeting of the Senate before that the President said as there would be no meeting of the Senate before December no serious inconvenience, he trusted, would arise from the post-ponement. By Telegraph to The Times CHICAGO, June 4 .- [By the Associated Press.] A gigantic deal, negotiations toward which have been carried on for the past week, was consummated this evening at the Auditorium Hotel. By the papers which were signed the Whisky Trust has at last acquired outright the only remaining the West-the great Chicago distilleries owned by Shufeldt & Co. and the Calumet Distilling Company. Shufeldt's distillery is the one that was partly burned yesterday and for an attempt to blow up which by dynamite, some weeks ago, George J. Gibson, secretary of the Whisky Trust, is now under in-

It is thought by many that the transaction may materially affect the Gibson case by removing any vindicative feeling toward him entered by Shufeldt. The news of the purchase was a surprise, although rumors, which were denied by the owners of the pur-chased distilleries, had been persist ently in circulation. A number of the largest stockholders in the trust have been in the city during the progress of

been in the city during the progress of the negotiations, which, with great secrecy, have been carried on in President Greenhut's rooms. The sales of both plants included real estate, machinery, patents, etc.

In connection with the purchase the Whisky Trust directors disclaim any intention to advance prices. They absolutely refuse to give the purchase prices, merely stating that the purchase was for cash and at a figure alike satisfactory to sellers and buyers. The satisfactory to sellers and buyers. The price is, however, known to have been fully commensurate with the gigantic character of the properties purchased, probably involving the transfer of about two million dollars.

The Magellanes Attacks Three of Balmaceda's Ships.

Over One Hundred Men Killed in the Engagement.

Balmaceda Vested with the Power of a Despot by His Party and Rules at WIII.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—[By the Associated Press.] Mail advices received here give an account of a battle fought in Valparaiso harbor, April 28, between the Chilean insurgent vessel Magellanes and government torpedo vessels Sergeant, Aldea Condell and Lynch, four days after the engagement between the same vessels in Charanel bay. The Magellanes came out victorious in the Charanel engagement and at onde decided to pursue the government vessels, and, if possible, destroy them before they could be refitted for sea. The crews of the government vessels did not expect the attack would be renewed so soon and the presence of the foreign ships of war in the harbor seemed to make them imagine that their safety was more secure.

The Magellanes stole into the harbor at hight, and ranging alongside the crippled Aldea, poured a broadside into her, ki.ling nearly half of crew, and completely ridding her and dismounting her guns. An alarm was sounded in port but the vessels lay so close together that the gunners in the forts dared not fire for fear of hitting their own vessel.

The Magellanes next attacked the ious in the Charanel engagement and at The Magellanes next attacked the Lynch, which returned her fire. A boat which had been sent from the Lynch with ten men to attack the Magellanes with a torpedo, was blown out of the water and the smokestack of the Lynch was carried away. In the meantime the Condell steamed to the outside of the Magellanes, thus getting the latter between two fires. The Magellanes was shot through and through, and over forty of the crew were soon dead or dying. The night was dark and her Lynch with ten men to attack the or dying. The night was dark and her captain resorted to a ruse to escape from his dangerous position. The Magellanes ceased firing and went Magellanes ceased firing and went astern, leaving the two government vessels pouring shot into each other until the Condell began filling rapidly. The trick was not discovered until the Magellanes crossed the stern of the Condell, pouring in a broadside that nearly demolished the latter, dismounted every gun and killed fourteen and wounded six of the Condell's graw.

The Magellanes then steamed out of the harbor, followed by a shower of shot and shells, one of which exploded on her decks, tearing a big hole, dis-mounting a pivot gun and killing four-men. The vessel then steamed to Caldera. The fight was one of the hot-Caldera. The fight was one of the hottest of the war and over a hundredmen were killed and many wounded.
The Condell had to be beached to preyent her sinking and the Aldea was so badly damaged that it will take a long time to repair her. The Lynch was also badly damaged, and in addition to the losses of half the crew, four out of six officers were killed, including her commander.

BALMACEDA'S RULE. The President Vested With Almost

Despotic Powers.
Washington, June 4.—[By the Associated Press.] South American mails received by the Bureau of American Republics contain interesting details of the Chilean civil war. The new Chilean Congress convened by Balmaceda has placed absolute power in his hands. It has authorized him, "pending the pacification of the country," to arrest and transport per-sons at will, to augment the land and sea forces, to expend the public revenues without regard to the estimate, to procure money by pledging the credit of the state, rendering an account to with Great Britain relative to South Congress, and to suspend the right of meeting and the liberty of the press.

In pursuance of these powers decrees are published in the Diario Officies.

When they came in he flashed the ten dollars, and dazzled her with it a while before he got into line. Now he's let-ting her get a good look at the five dollars before he sinks it. It's a great scheme. No other fellow can steal that girl now. He's got her solid. And the long green did it."—Chicago Post.

Ten thousand dollars in gold and greenbacks has been found secreted in an old table in the residence of John Sprague, a shoemaker, of Wilmington Del. The money represents his deceased wife's savings for thirty-nine years. On Jan. 27 Mrs. Mary Sprague, wife of the cobbler, dropped dead, a victim of heart disease, in a drug store. The couple came to Wilmington from England thir-ty-one years ago. The husband is about sixty years of age, while the wife was nearly fifty-nine years old when she died. They were frugal and industrious, and during their thirty-nine years of married life the husband weekly gave the wife a certain sum of money for her use. He never questioned what she did with the

Finally Mrs. McGinley, a neighbor, suggested, as she had had a dream to that effect, that possibly the treasure might be secreted in an antique table, and this article of furniture was examined. Tightly wedged in an inside corner of the table were found a bag of gold and a roll of greenbacks, which, being counted, amounted to $10,000.-Cor. Philadelphia

The Tableau.

The palmiest day of the tableau enter tainment has rather gone by. Sacred and profane history, ancient and modern customs have been faithfully worked for varieties in tableau representation and their freshness has pretty well departed. An entertainment of pretty and picturesque scenes, unvaried by action or movement, is a somewhat mild form of amusement. For obvious reasons this kind of entertainment has had a long run of favor. Tableaux, represented by good folks that they all know, are something that the strictest church people can look upon without a feeling of sin, and a great deal of money for good causes has been realized in this way. They flourish best in home soil and pro not a little have they owed to the good natured puffs of amiable editors and the family pride which loves to see Sis on age in a fancy costume, looking a pretty as a peachblow vase.—Springfield

CHAIN THEM UP, TAKE A WHIP AND DON'T SHOW ANY FEAR.

When They Jump at You Hit 'Em. Talk to 'Em, Hit 'Em Again if They Jump at You and Let 'Em Know You're Their Master-That's the Way to Train Tigers.

"So you think there ain't any work done in winter quarters, eh?" said George conkin, superintendent of Barnum's menagerie, as he chewed a bit of straw by the big stove in the middle of the wild animal room in the quarters at Bridgeport. "No work, eh? You think we just loaf all winter, keep the fires up and feed the animals? Well, that shows how much you know about it. Do you see that den of tigers over there?"

Mr. Conklin and his visitor approached a long cage standing in line with many other cages in a long one story brick building, which bounded the eastern end of the great inclosure which the big show occupies during the winter season. The cage had five Bengal tigers in it. Four of them were together. The fifth was separated from the others by a temporary iron grating. Two of the four tigers which were in company had thick leather collars round the and stout chains several feet long fastened to them. The tiger in solitary confinement was similarly harnessed

"Well," said Mr. Conklin, "I'll tell you one thing we do besides feeding these tigers. We train them. Those fellows in there who have chains on them, and in there who have chains on them, and are just now spitting and growling at us in such savage style, are new. We have had them only a month or two. The others are old boys who will let me go into the cage and not say a word to me. By the time we go on the road they will all let me go into the cage. I give them a lesson every day. That's one thing we do during the winter."

How to TRAIN TIGERS.
"How do you tame them?" asked the

"It's easily done," said the trainer carelessly. "Every day I have the men catch the ends of the chains which hold the new tigers, and fasten them to the bars so they can only move a certain distance: Then I arm myself with a raw hide whip and a stout club and enter the down in a corner.

"The minute I get in the untrained tigers spring at me. No doubt they would chew me to shreds if they got at me, but the chains hold them back and they only tumble on the floor. I hit them smartly with the whip and they crouch back and snark. After a little I hove my chair closer. Then they jump at me again, but again are thrown down by their chains.

"I shove closer and repeat the programme, and finally I get so close that they can touch me with their noses, but not bite me. Here I sit for a long time, talking to them as long as they remain quiet, and switching them with all the orce possible when they become fierce In the course of a few weeks they be come used to my entrance, and only cringe and snarl at me. Then I try them, one by one, without a chain.

"I have never so far used the club. Now I hold it ready to deal a mighty blow if necessary, but it is seldom necessary. The tiger is subdued and permits my en trance whenever I choose. I have go these tigers here nearly trained. The snarl yet, you see, but next week I will tackle them without chains. That fellow in the other compartment is tractable enough, but he persists in fighting with the big Bengal, so we have to keep them separate. Do you see that long mark on his belly? He and the big fellow had a particularly hard fight the other day, and that is one result.

POWER OF THE HUMAN EYE. "If we hadn't had the big fellow's claws clipped beforehand he'd have ripped ope the new one from end to end. So there another delicate job for me. Ive got to get those tigers on good terms."
"Is there any basis of truth in the many stories that are told of the power of the human eye over wild beasts "Not the slightest," said Conklin disdainfully. "Of course it is true that a surplus, but supposed it was regularly man who aims to subdue wild beasts made for the bankbook supposed to exist, but to no avail. The house was ransacked also, but no recommendations and the real requisite is real feedbases. But a rap about his eyes. The secret of taming wild beasts is the realization that all wild beasts, however ferocious, are a heart cowards—particularly if they be long to the cat family, as lions, tigers leopards and panthers do. Warm as Greece and Rome and Egypt are, stoves were made there in the dim and misty vistas of the past. It was not just the pattern used in Chicago at present, but was a metal basin in which charcoal was burned. It sat in the middle of the room, and as the resulting smoke was of the slightest no opening in the roof or elsewhere was necessary. The same implement, still called by its old Greek name of brazier, is still employed in many portions of continental Europe, where it is utilized for heating as well as cooking.

But the progressive Romans improved on that and made a hypocaust. It was the germ of the present furnace. It was made under the house in a little cellar prepared for it, and the heat was condueted to the rooms and baths through crevices left in the floor and lower portions of the wall. Later flues were provided, conducting heat to any portion of the house. In some of the old Roman villas in England the remains of these old time furnaces are still found.—Chicago Herald.

A Remarkable Phenor On Thursday, March 19, 1719, there appeared at London, about 8 o'clock at night, a "sudden great light moving after the manner but more slowly than a falling star. It started from a point be low Orion's belt, then lying in the south-west, and went upward instead of downward like a falling star. Its size, according to the testimony of numer observers in Spain, France, Ireland, Holland and some parts of Germany, as well as those who saw it in London and all over England, was about that of the full moon. It was of whitish color, with an eye in the center as blue as the most azure portion of a June sky after a thunder storm. It went straight upward in its course until out of sight, leaving a track of fiery red sparks in its wake."-St. Louis Republic.

GOLD DUG OUT BY HAND.

DISCOVERY OF BREYFOGLE'S MINE BY A PROSPECTOR.

for the Historic Treasure—Gold Is Found There on the Surface in Lumps Like Plums in a Pudding.

There is not a miner or old settler in the southern part of California who is not familiar with the story of the famous Breyfogle mine. It ranks with the Gunsight, the Pegleg and the Lost Cabin rends. Like them it has cost dozens lives, and so unsuccessful and fatal have been the many expeditions made in search of the mine that it has come to be regarded by many as a myth.

Briefly, for the information of those who have never heard the tale, the story goes that away back in the early fifties party, in which was a man named Breyfogle, set out for California by way of the southern Utah road, a route which lay through the southern portions of Utah and Nevada, skirted Death valley, traversed the Mojave desert and finally terminated in either the San Bernardine or Los Angeles valley.

Breyfogle was something of a miner in his way, and while prospecting in a wild and forbidding region he found a place where he could literally dig great nuggets of gold out of the decomposed quartz or cement, as he called it, with is knife. As he described the place, there was a large deposit of an exceed ingly rich character—enough to make the whole party wealthy. He returned it the travelers were short of provisions and water, the Indians were ome and there was no time to waste in mining.

They pushed on toward their destination, but between the Indians and thirst only a few of them ever-reached civiliza-tion. Breyfogle told his story, exhibted the nuggets he had dug out and carefully preserved, and then spent the rest of life in a fruitless search for the deposit. Others who heard the story fol-lowed his example, and for upward of forty years the Breyfogle mine has been a veritable will-o'-the-wisp, luring men to destruction in the terrible deserts of southeastern California and southwest-

A LUCKY STRIKE.

George Montgomery, an experienced miner well known in the Wood river region of Idaho, was on a prospecting trip in the region to the southeastward of Death valley. It should be premised that the old Utah road after leaving San Bernardino city turns through the Cajon pass and then strikes off in a northeasterly direction across the Mojave désert, passing Resting Springs, the Kingston mountains and then traversing the Pahrump valley. This valley lies just on the boundary line between California and Nevada and has a general northwesterly and southéasterly course, the Kingson mountains lying to the west and the Pahrump range to the east.

While prospecting in the mountains last named and at the upper end of the valley Montgomery made a discovery which bears every indication of being the long sought Breyfogle mine, or a least one exactly similar. But the loca tion answers to that given by Breyfogle while the gold has been found just as he said-so plentiful that it could be du out in nuggets with a knife.

One ledge located by Montgomery is eight feet wide, and has been traced by its outcroppings for a distance of 9,000 feet. In the decomposed surface rock the gold is found almost like plums in a pudding. Pieces of quartz picked out are from a quarter to half bright yellow gold, while with a hand mortar the lucky discoverer pounded out in a short time a yeast powder can full of nuggets of various sizes. All along the ledge free gold is found in quantities that astonish the oldest prospectors and which seem scarcely credible.

After making several locations Mont-gomery spead the news of his discovery, the result being that some thirty or forty miners are at work in the valley. Montgomery himself packed up as large a quantity of the richest specimens as he y and made his way across the desert to Daggett, the nearest railroad point, 160 miles away. From there he came to San Francisco.

FORTUNES FOR MANY. To the question whether he was look ing for capital or a purchaser, Mr. Montgomery returns an emphatic negative. mines, he says, are the richest he ever saw, and he is satisfied that he can realize a fortune by working them. There ought to be plenty of placer gold in the gulches leading from the ledges that have been discovered, but no effort has been made to find any. All the miners yet in the camp are busy on the quartz claims they have located. On one claim taken up by Montgomery a cross cut has been pushed for twenty feet across the vein without striking the nging wall, and it is free milling ore all the way.

Besides the deposits of gold, some rich silver veins have been found, assays from which run over a hundred ounces to the ton. Lead and copper also abound, but at present gold is the sole object of

There is plenty of mesquite wood for fuel in the valley within three or four miles of the newly discovered camp, while in the mountains, fifteen miles away, are forests which afford abundance of timbering material. Water can be had at a moderate depth in Pahrump valley, while at Ash Meadows, fifteen miles away, are streams which could be ntilized for power.

In any event the Breyfogle mystery seems to have been solved, and perhaps this fact will give another stimulus to the search for the Gunsight and the Pegleg mines.—San Francisco Letter.

BUSINESS.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES, LOS ANGELES, June 4, 1891. For the past two or three weeks the pro-ducing community has been greatly interested in weather prognostications, and the barley-growers particularly have lived in dairly fear of a big rainstorm, which should destroy the results of a season's labor. The anxiety for fear the barley crep should be ruined or damaged, has been so great as to cause even the farming community to ferget the fact that the past month could scarcely be improved upon if the interests of the farmers of other crops than grain and hay be considered. Los Angeles has this hay be considered. Los Angeles has this year an unusual acreage of corn, and an unprecedented area has been set to potatoes, cabbage and other vegetables. Ventura and Santa Barbara counties have more than their usual quota of Lima and other beans, and the reports are unanimously hopeful of a full crop.

The season sees also an unusually large area planted to peas, bears, sweet corn, cabage, tom toes and other "truck" for the San Francisco and Territorial markets, and the prevailing conditions are extremely favorable to such crops, giving the producer reason to hope for better returns than he has realized at any time in the past.

A dispatch from Chicago says: "The Porter Bros, Company sold today one car of California fruit, Black Tartarian cherries brought $1.25@1.70; Royal Anne cherries, $2.30; Back Biggereau, $1.55."

NEW YORK, June 4 .- As was generally expected after the announcement that Rock Island had reduced its rates of divi-dends last evening, that fact was a great subject of interest this morning in the stock market, and its depressing effects were such that the improvement in the foreign situation as indicated by a reduction in its minimum rate of discount by the Bank of England, counted for almost naught. The influence of the latter, how-ever, asserted itself in stubborn strength with which the downward movement of the corngroads was resisted by the remainder of the list, and when it became evident that good buying orders were in the market, a better temper marked speculation, and comparative duliness took the place of the feverish activity prevailing during most of the forencon. Outside the corn roads the only important movements were in Union Pacific, sugar and a few specialties. The market finally closed fairly active and firm to strong. The final changes show only small losses and gains in the general list, but Rock Island is down 5 per cent, Burlington 126, while sugar is up 296.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4 .- [Special to THE TIMES.] The cereal market is dull.

Business was very suisfactory in nearly all lines of fruit this morning and the market is pretty well cleaned up. Arrivals of ket is pretty well cleaned up. Arrivals of raspberries are getting scarce and a slight advance in figures is noted. Strawberries are also in light supply. Apricots are coming forward more freely, but the fruit is arriving mostly in green condition and is not bringing as good prices as expected. The peaches coming in are also in poor condition and in light demand.

Good scleable oranges are scarce and in fair demand.

Arrivals of river potatoes are on the increase. Green peas are in heavy supply. Canners are buying up common stock freely at 50 cents per sack. String beans are scarce. There were 112 boxes of tomatoes this morning from Los Angeles. The market shows no changes.

Eggs are still firm, as high as 24 cents per dozen being brought in a few cases.

Every Englishman, journalist or citizen, who has said anything about the Prince of Wales' debts has humbly retracted his statements. Edward Yates and Labouchers have eaten, their own and Labouchere have eaten their own words with abject apology, and sub-editors on two or three minor sheets have been discharged by their proprietors. An official anouncement is furthermore made that the Prince never borrowed any money and owes no money, and that the Queen has not paid out any money for his debts. All of which is due to the fact that the Prince may be King. The English journalist told the truth, but English public sentiment would not permit public sentiment would not permit them to stick to it. The maxim "The King can do no wrong," extends like-wise to the Prince.

Christine Nilsson entertained at din-ner, not long ago, the two divas, Patti and Albani, and the three queens of song were attired in the symptuous simplicity of the Valois or Tudor pe-ried. riod. They hummed a few anatches of songs together, as they did long ago before titles troubled them, and were charmingly sweet to each other, but they did not appear together in public.

antil 2 o'clock. nntil 2 o'clock.

The topic set apart for the afternoon session was "Sunday-school and Young People's Work." The opening address was made by Rev. J. S. Thomson of Los Angeles. He talked on "A Question for Young People." The speaker argued in favor of bringing up children in contact with the world as it is; too teach them to distinguish between in contact with the world as it is; to teach them to distinguish between right and wrong and then, instead of attempting to shield them from all evil, let them meet it face to face. It was nrged that it is a mistake to keep all that is wicked hidden from children, for if brought up in an atmosphere of purely good things, when they go out into the world and meet temptations the chances are they will fail. The sub-good things, when they go out into the world and meet temptations the chances are they will fail. The subject was ably discussed and made a deep impression on those present.

Miss L. N. Shaw of Oakland then read a paper on "Young People's Work." The paper was of considerable length but happily written in a manner that won the undivided attention of those present. It is impossible to do it justice in this brief synopsis. It detailed the work of the Young People's Christian Union, and People's Christian Union, and more especially that of the Young People's Christian Endeavor Society at Oakland, showing what an essential factor this organization is in bringing young people into the church.

A paper on "Hindrances to Progress," was next read by C. C. Spalding. The history of the birth of Universalism and the consequent new system of theology embraced by its doctrines, were outlined. The speaker went on to show what has been accomplished aincest his resolution because plished since this revolution began, more than a hundred years ago. The more than a hundred years ago. The figures are interesting. From nothing has developed a general convention, 25 State conventions, 55 young people's missionary societies, 60 Y. P. S. C. E., 47 Y. P. C. U., 8 King's Daughters, 112 miscellaneous societies, 4 colleges, 3 theological seminaries, 5 preparatory sobools, 9 periodicals and newspapers, 1 publishing house, 118 professors and teachers, 1231 students; property, over debts, of $11,931,925, 995 parishes, 42,914 families, 753 church organizations, 41,362 church members, 679 Sunday-sctools, 56,472 scholars, and 802 church edifices. Most of this work has been accomplished during the past thirty years. The subject of the paper was most intelligently discussed, and covers such a wide range that no adequate idea of it can be embraced in the brief space here allotted.

An interesting paper embracing much coriginal thought was read by Dr. D.

An interesting paper embracing much original thought, was read by Dr. D.

W. Mott of Sants Paula. It was headed "The World's Book-keeping." The substance of the argument is hinted at in these words: "All mind and all matter are engaged in bookmaking and book-keeping. Every in-telligent individual is daily carrying on transactions in the world's moral capital, and ledger accounts of these transactions are being kept whether we know it or not. The debit and credit sides each receive their own ap-priate entries of items and each antry priate entries of items, and each ent

E. Leavett, Kev. S. Goodenough and Rev. C. C. Spaiding.

The following resolution was passed by a rising vote: "Resolved, that the delegates and visitors in attendance upon this convention who reside in other parts of the State hereby express to our friends in Pasadena our appre-ciation and hearty thanks for the warrociation and hearty thanks for the warm establishment of a church of our faith in San Francisco, be adopted, with the additional recommendation that active steps be instituted to supplement the pledges of the two faithful friends mentioned as largely as possible.

Second—We recommend the adoption of the report upon the Santa Cruz Mission, and the continuation of such aid as the mission may need and the convention can extend during the comping year. Third—We recommend that this convention instruct its secretary urgently to request of the general convention to appoint an assistant general secretary for the Pacific Coast.

THE DAY FOR ME.

A brilliant sky, a fine bare tree,
Some soft snow blowing down the slope;
The cedars green as they can be,
The sunshine full of life and hope—
These fill one's heart with glee,
This is the day for me!

A warm, sweet noon, with flowers round,
And insects happy in the sun;
With green things rising from the ground
Their higher life not long begun—
Haill blossom, bird and bee,
This is the day for me!

A richer sky, a deeper green;
A happy sense of well-earned rest;
A summer landscape full of sheen,
The world at its brightest, sweetest, l
A swaying seat in a tree—
This is the day for mel

The glowing woods in splendor stand (Their wealth is hid from caroless sight).
The eye may feast on every hand;
To be alive is pure delight.
Oh, autumn wind so free,
This is the day for mel

Be not so fast, joy pulsing heart; These ideal days make not the year; They only form its perfect part, Some must be rainy, cold and drear. Canst then say carnestly
"This is the day for me?"

Rest Is Necessary. A man who has so much to do that he will work nights and Sundays as well as week days is not likely to do as much in the long run as the man who rests at God's appointed times in order to fit himself for effective work between these times. Many a busy man breaks down a great deal earlier than he needs down a great deal earner than he needs to, because he insists on working when rest is his first duty. And many a man who observes God's law of the night and the Sabbath, written in man's very nature, accomplishes far more in a serie of years than he could have wrought with any violation of that law.

Mr. Gladstone, speaking not long ago of his own experiences in busy life, said of the high privilege of "Sunday rest," "Personally, I have always endeavored so far as circumstances have allowed, to avail myself of this privilege, and now laborious public career of close on fifty seven years, I attribute in great part to this practice the prolonging of my life and the preservation of my faculties." We now have some $5000 in the treasury, all obtained from icenses, and even more than this sum will be received in the way of taxes. As there is no special drain upon the town treasury, except to pay officers, most of our tax-payers are of the opin-ion that the Trustees ought to give a reasonable guarantee to the parties who propose to light the town. Electric lights would be in entire harmony with our nicely-paved streets and well improved ocean front. Let us by all means have the plant if it can be se-

As has been noted, the merging of the oast division into the Pacific system on the ame footing as the Western division, Sac amento division and any of the othe risions of the Southern Pacific road took ne weeks ago. Considerable speculation was indulged in at the time as to the position to be occupied by Superintendent A. C. Bassett. Prior to the change he was in as independent a position as General Manager A. N. Towne, while the change brought the entire division and its officers directly under the latter gentleman. The news was published in San Francisco yesterday that Mr. Bassett had recisco yesterday that Mr. Bassett had resigned his position by request of President C. P. Huntington, who had thus unexpectedly exploded another hand-grenade in the ranks of the directors and officials. A short time ago Mr. Huntington addressed a brief letter to Mr. Bassett, directing him to turn over to General Manager A. N. Towne all the departments of the coast division over which he has had exclusive control in the past. The transfer was made, the coast division business, which has been separate y conducted, was merged with the other divisions in the Pacific system as is held by the Sacramento, western and other divisions. It is no more distinguished by a distinct management. When Mr. Bassett had given up the property, whose fortunes he had been so instrumental in making, there was nothing left for him to do but indice a letter of resignation to Vice-President.

Progress of the Great Factory at Chino—The Outlook. Five carloads of fine machinery arrived from Germany day before yesterday for the eet-sugar factory at Chino.

The immense buildings are about com pleted, and the machinery will be in place in a few weeks. A gentleman who has taken a deep interest in Mr. Gird's scheme risited the factory the other day, and in onversation with a TIMES reporter said:

"It is the biggest thing ever started in California. When completed it will be the largest sugar-beet factory in the world outside of Germany. Mr. Gird has secured all the latest improved machinery, and has engaged expert sugar-makers, s. that there is no doubt but that the venture will be a success. My dear friend: You ask me if I know anything about the ROYAL BAKING POWDER, and if I consider it free from all

I am glad to be able to assure you that I know, both from experience and from a chemical analysis, that the ROYAL BAKING POWDER is a pure, wholesome and dependable article.

Knowing the pernicious effects of deleterious ingredients used in the preparation of food, especially in that indispensable article to every family-bread-I have taken great pains to ascertain what I could safely use in my own home, and recommend to the many mothers with whom I constantly come in contact in our work among the children. I regard the ROYAL BAKING POW-DER as a boon to the household and a benediction to the Very sincerely yours,
